Rider University Partnership with Thakur College

undergraduate program with graduate business degree option

About the Rider-Thakur partnership

Rider University and Thakur College of Science & Commerce in Mumbai, India have entered an educational partnership that provides Thakur students the opportunity to enroll at Rider and earn their undergraduate degrees in global business or the sciences. Students then have the opportunity to continue their education and earn a graduate business degree from Rider. Through this partnership, Rider steps confidently into the realm of international education while helping to educate a new generation of students to become business leaders schooled in advanced Western business theory and processes.
